VILLA ARMY IS MOVING ON FORCES AT JUAREZ

EL PASO, Texas, June 10.—Scores of residents of Juarez, Mexico, are fleeing from that city today in anticipation of an attack by Villa forces, which are reported at Villa Ahumada, about eighty miles south of here. Refugees are crowding the international bridge in an attempt to cross to the United States side of the line.

The Villa forces, said to be under command of General Felipe Angeles, is declared to be a formidable one, and it is predicted that the federal garrison at Juarez will prove inadequate to resist it.

EL PASO, Texas, June 10.—Villa forces occupied Guadalupe, a Mexican town opposite Fabens, Texas, thirty-two miles east of El Paso, last night, according to information from Fabens today.

Another force, said to be part of General Angeles' forces, is moving toward Juarez.

There was no fighting at Guadalupe, the Carranza garrison having been called into Juarez last week.

JUMPED IN WATER WHEN SUFFERING FROM DELIRIUM

BENICIA, June 10.—Clad only in her night robe, Mrs. Bert Laws, wife of a harness maker in the Benicia Arsenal, was picked from the water of Benicia bay Saturday morning by the crew of the river steamer Navajo. Mrs. Laws was clinging to a pier at the time she was picked up. Word of the rescue was received by the Southern Pacific offices here.

Laws explains that his wife has been ill for some time. Friday night he sat up with her, but at four o'clock Saturday morning fell asleep. When he awoke she was gone.

Mrs. Laws says she remembers nothing of what happened until she struck the water. She then clung to the pier until picked up.

KOZY KOVE FESTIVAL

The Italian Colony Club will hold a grand festival at Kozy Kove on July 6th. The Italian band will participate and the lid will be off for a fine time on the Sunday after the Fourth.

FERRY PROJECT IS PLANNED TO RICHMOND FROM SAN FRANCISCO

Captain H. T. Lauritzen, who is at the head of the Richmond Navigation and Improvement Co., and carries the greater part of the freight from San Francisco to Richmond, and from this city to the great metropolis across the bay, is a firm advocate of a ferry system for passenger and automobile traffic between the two cities. He says he is willing to put money and his time into the project and is sure that it will meet with success.

At the banquet of the Merchants' Association last night he told the members that the project would cost with all concessions on the San Francisco and Richmond sides of the bay, together with a fast boat that would make the trip across in twenty-five minutes, the sum of approximately four or five hundred thousand dollars—but he said he was confident it would pay well from the start.

The proposition is being investigated by a committee of the Chamber of Commerce and will be reported on at an early meeting of that body.

FORBES STORE IS SOLD TO MR. REED

Robert A. Read, of Delano, has purchased the dry goods store of A. S. Forbes at Eighth street and Macdonald avenue, and will take possession in a few days. He has been conducting a ranch at Delano, but found the life did not agree with him, so he decided to come to Richmond and embark in business. He traded the ranch to Forbes as a portion of the consideration.

Forbes is going into the farming business and Read is going to conduct the Richmond store. Mr. Read has had long experience in this line of work, having conducted a large store in Los Angeles for a number of years.

BASKETBALL IS POPULAR IN SCHOOL

The keen rivalry in basket ball at the Lincoln school still continues. Yesterday there was an exciting game in which the High Seventh defeated the High Eighth by a score of 17 to 15. Those on the victorious team were Bernice Mills, Mary Cozzo, Mary Church, Thelma Cozzo, Freda Howard, Inez Stubblefield and Prudence Renwick. Those on the High Eighth team were Lolita Brown, Anna Towers, Margaret Backhaus, Alta Parker, Alice Piper, Rita M. Davis and Inez Smith.

The Young Woman Who Supports Herself

should have a savings account. A spell of sickness or any emergency may cut off her income—and then the savings will prove a boon.

But aside from the bulwark it builds against the proverbial "rainy day"—a bank account provides a safe place for one's surplus earnings and enables one the better to turn down the endless stream of get-rich-quick "investments (.)" that eddies and swirls about the man or woman with a few extra dollars.

A bank account is the surest investment you can make—the returns are certain—and the principal is absolutely safe.

CHAUTAUQUA SESSION TO OPEN HERE TONIGHT

Chautaqua begins its session in the big tent at Nevin avenue, between 9th and 10th streets this evening. It is to be a great event in our history, and the local committee hopes to meet with sufficient success in the initial efforts to hold a Chautauqua session in Richmond this year to warrant them in bringing it back again next year and all the years following.

At the present time it appears that the sale for season tickets is not going to foot up to the standard expected for a city of the size of Richmond. Many of the towns of the state of a fourth of the population of Richmond have made a better showing, and unless things brighten up tonight and tomorrow there is every indication that we cannot hope to retain this great educational and recreational institution. However, the committee s working with might and main, and all that is needed to pull the Chautauqua over is a proper co-operation on the part of the people. They can do this by buying enough tickets to meet the guarantee.

And right here let it be understood that by buying a season ticket a lot of money will be saved to the holder—a great deal more than half of the amount which it will cost if single admissions are taken for the performances. It is a money saving proposition to buy these tickets for the season, and besides, you will be helping out the local people by so doing.

Director Ralph W. Nelson is here and ready to begin his work. In fact he has been here for the past week, and has done everything in his power to bring the business end of the Chautauqua to a basis where the committee will come out even on their contract. All that is required is for the people themselves to do their duty.

This evening the opening and initiatory entertainment will begin in the big tent at 8 o'clock, and after that is over the committee will hold a meeting to talk over the plans for an organized drive tomorrow lasting all day. The program this evening will consist of opening announcements, musical fun program, and the lecture of Dr. Joseph Clare on "The Riddle of the Russian Revolution." The general admission to this entertainment will be 55 cents, with an addition of the war tax.

REFERENDUM FOR DEFEAT OF DRY WAVE DUE ON FIRST YEAR

Petitions carrying hundreds of names of Contra Costa county residents were filed in the office of the county clerk on Tuesday, calling for a referendum election on the Sheppard amendment to the Constitution of the United States prohibiting the sale or manufacture of intoxicating liquors which was ratified by the California legislature at the last session.

County clerk J. H. Wells will review the entire list immediately to determine if all the signers are registered voters of the county, and the petitions will then be forwarded to the secretary of State in Sacramento.

Ralph W. Nelson, Chautauqua director, who will deliver an inspirational lecture at the Chautauqua tent tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock on the subject of "Star Bright." Mr. Nelson is a graduate of Yale College, the University of Kansas and Phillips University.

GREAT WATER PROJECT

Richmond city officials who made the trip to Eel river along with the other East Bay city officials to investigate the water supply, declare it to be a wonderful proposition. They say enough water can be obtained there to supply all the bay cities for the next hundred years, and then have enough left for generating power.

RETURNED TO MARTINEZ

Earl Soto, who has been holding a position with the Standard Oil Company at Richmond in the chemical laboratories, has returned to Martinez to reside and has accepted a position on the surveying staff of R. R. Arnold.

BUSINESS MAN LOCATES HERE

W. R. Carlton, a wide-awake business man, has located in Richmond, purchased himself a home and proposes to be one of us in the future. He sees great things in store for this city, and is going to take his chances here. In the Elks building at 927 Macdonald avenue, he has opened up the "Sewing Machine Shop," and will cater especially to the needs of the women.

He will also carry a full line of phonographs and the latest records. Go in and get acquainted with him, even if you do not want to buy at that particular time. He is a live wire, and a talk with him will do you good.

Mr. Carlton was formerly in business in Colorado, and also at Long Beach.

MRS. BOSWELL BETTER

Word comes from Mrs. Levi Boswell, who is visiting with her sons at Sacramento, that she is getting along nicely, and that the fractured arm seems to be knitting rapidly and is in a fair way of being as good as ever when the time comes for taking off the cast. She will remain in the capital city for several weeks.

COMMUNITY CHORAL CLUB

The Community Choral Club met last night for the first time at Lincoln Auditorium, and organized under the leadership of Professor Plunket Dillon. The club is practicing for the grand Fourth of July patriotic festival which is to be held in this city this year.

SOLDIER COMING HOME

Everett C. Lambrecht wired his mother yesterday from Newport News that he had arrived from overseas and expects to be home in a few weeks. He has been overseas for the past two years.

VISITED IN BAKERSFIELD

After spending a pleasant visit at Bakersfield, Mrs. J. O. Bell has returned to her home at 1122 Bissell avenue yesterday.

PREMIER OF ITALY HAS BALKED ON TERMS

PARIS, June 10.—The Council of Four met today amid an atmosphere of pessimism over the larger questions of peace making with Germany still unsolved. It is understood that Premier Clemenceau has not moved from his position against any modificaton of the peace terms.

PARIS, June 10.—Premer Orlando of Italy caused another hitch in the peace negotiations today when he again informed the big four at this morning's meeting that Italy would refuse any suggestions for a compromise on the counter territorial claims affecting the Adriatic littoral. He declared that Italy would stand pat on the pact of London (the agreement entered into by England, France and Italy promising territorial concessions which induced Italy to enter the war.)

President Wilson has washed his hands of the whole affair, leaving the problem up to Premier Lloyd George and Premier Clemenceau. The President's attitude is that the United States should not become a party to the infamous pact of London.

There are strong intimations in conference circles that pro-German influences are at work in Italy to create discord and that they are seeking the retirement of Premier Orlando and his associates in favor of a mission headed by former Premier Giolitti.

SENIORS OF HIGH SCHOOL GIVEN BANQUET BY JUNIORS

Probably one of the nicest affairs of the season was held at the High School last Friday when the Junior class banqueted the graduating Senior class. Mr. Helms, Mr. Tucker and all the faculty were present.

President Rawson of the Junior class acted as toastmaster. He outlined the Great War between the Juniors and Seniors, and then introduced Mr. Cassidy, President of the Senior class, who dictated his famous Fourteen Points. Ambassador Ludewig then gave the Juniors the terms of an Armistice which, with a few changes, were agreed to by General Moore. Capt. Farlinger submitted his Peace Terms which Helen Scott answered, and Mildred Best presented for the consideration of the entire Student Body a Constitution for a League of Classes.

The peace having been signed, the work of Reconstruction was outlined by Herman Walther, who made known the various phases of activity which next year's Seniors contemplate, at the same time wishing the present Seniors happiness and success in their new undertakings.

A quartette of Seniors, Gloria Osborne, Frances Miller, Otto Ludewig and Edward Poage, added to the enjoyment of the evening by contributing several musical numbers. Gladys Griffin gave a solo most delightfully rendered.

The latter part of the evening was given over to informal dancing. The occasion will be long remembered by both the Junior and the Senior classes as one of the most delightful of their school life.

MERCHANTS HOLD BANQUET AND DISCUSS MATTERS FOR GENERAL BETTERMENT OF CITY

Members of the Merchants' Association held their big get-together banquet and talkfest at Otto Kellar's Tivoli Cafe last night and afterwards by special invitation were guests of Manager Dan Reardon, of the Richmond theatre. The banquet was a complete success, some twenty-five of the members being present and the food was all that Otto Kellar promised—the best to be found in the market, and served by two active young ladies gowned in white.

President Burdick of the association presided at the banquet and introduced the speakers, the talks being short and along the lines of meeting Richmond's needs in a commercial and social way. Louis Garfinkle, of Garfinkle's Clothes Shop for women, was the first speaker of the evening, and discussed the matter of the city's needs along the lines of advancement. His talk was liberally applauded.

Fred Caudle of the First National Bank, told the merchants about his late trip East, and what he discovered en route, and in his old home in Kansas. He said wheat, which was not the chief crop in Kansas, promised excellent returns and that the state would export a hundred million bushels from this year's crops. However he said he was extremely glad to get back to California, and expected to remain here the remainder of his life.

Claude E. Clark, manager of the East Bay Water Company, talked on the advisability of the city purchasing Grand Canyon Park. He thought the time to act is right now when the property can be purchased at a reasonable figure.

F. J. Hulaniski, of the Richmond News, discussed the proposition of a newspaper's relation to the business affairs of the merchant, and contended that the interests of the newspapers and the merchants were identical. Both are interestd in the ultimate upbuilding of the city, and if the merchants prosper the newspapers would prosper likewise. Both should bet behind every proposition for the benefit of the community and boost.

Robert A. Read, who has purchased the Forbes Dry Goods store at Eighth and Macdonald avenue, is the newest member of the association and made the members a nice little speech. He said he was most too new in the city to advise them how to run the town, but he expected to be able to do so in a short time. However, he believes in advertising and suggested that if the merchants of Richmond would let the people of the world know about our boundless resources there would be no difficulty about securing more factories and a consequent larger growth. Mr. Read has been farming near Bakersfield, and before that was a merchant in Los Angeles. He said he had been in Oakland and San Francisco many times, but until recently never heard of Richmond.

Attorney Wilbur Pierce told the banqueters that boost should be the watchword of every business man in the town, and they should boost for the theatre project, better restaurants and hotels and more sociability among the home folks. He advocated changing the ordinance prohibiting music in restaurants, and said this would have a tendency to keep the people at home who otherwise go to neighboring towns with their families for their recreation and enjoyment.

Charles S. Renwick discussed the hotel proposition, better street lighting system and a lot of other things which he found other towns to possession a recent journey he made, south. He said while Richmond is the best town in California today it would be made much better by proper application on the part of the business men.

Captain H. P. Lauritzen of the Richmond Navigation company spoke Richmond Navigation Co. spoke of the advisability and practicability of an auto-passenger ferry line from Richmond to San Francisco. A ferry boat which could make the trip in thirty minutes with a capacity of fifty machines would cost about $400,000, but would make a handsome return to the company operating such a line. There are hundreds of machines passing along the highways which come from San Francisco by way of Oakland, but with a ferry direct to Richmond there would be offered a much better service. He stated that landing places on both sides of the bay are available.

Harry Marcus, of the Big Store, told the assemblage why the word "big" appealed to him, and when he put anything over at all, he wanted to do it in a big way. He said the people of Richmond have a big opportunity to make a big town of Richmond, and he for one was willing to aid the world in every way in his power.

C. C. Olney arose to his feet over an accusation from the toastmaster that he was present only at banquets and resented it hotly. Belonging to so many lodges and other organizations he was compelled to apportion his evenings with those and his family, and he thought if he attended the association banquets he was doing his full duty. Fitzgerald, Hitchcock, of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, and Loher spoke on the general boost proposition. Those present were:

A. C. Burdick, Fred Caudle, L. Garfinkle, Clinton B. Smith, H. Marcus, W. Mayer, C. E. Clark, Al. J. Abraham, C. C. Olney, C. H. Pulse, J. C. Hitchcock, John Fitzgerald, F. H. Wilkins, H. P. Lauritzen, O. R. Ludewig, F. P. Grinsley, J. A. Long, E. Forwick, C. S. Renwick, Wilbur S. Pierce, Robert A. Read, Benjamin Malik, George T. Loher, Al. Schneider, A. G. Papadakis, Frank Hull and F. J. Hulaniski.

MARE ISLAND TO GET MORE MONEY FOR NAVY YARD IMPROVEMENTS

SACRAMENTO, June 10.—Word was received here yesterday from Washington that Congressman Chas. F. Curry has made considerable progress toward obtaining needed improvement at the Mare Island navy yard in a conference with Admiral Parks, chief of yards and docks for the Navy Department.

He urged that the Navy Department recommend an appropriation of $165,000 to build a government owned railroad from the navy yard around the waterfront and over the new causeway to connect with the Southern Pacific Railroad. This would eliminate the present ferry and lighterage charges in and out of the yard.

Fred Britten of the House Naval Affairs Committee promised Curry he would seek to have the item included in the regular army appropriation bill.

Curry also has asked for a suction dredge to maintain the channel and turning basin at Mare Island.

APPENDICITIS VICTIM

MARTINEZ, June 10.—L. G. Beach, editor of the Vallejo Times, and his sister, Mrs. W. M. Laidlaw of Crockett, were visitors in Martinez on Monday morning. Beach's son was operated on at the Martinez hospital on Monday morning for appendicitis.

RECONSTRUCTING PRICES.

The U. S. Department of Labor, through the Information and Education Service, is issuing the results of a study of prices during the war and readjustment period made by the Division of Public Works and Construction Development. Discussing the Civil War period as a precedent for war prices, the report says:

"A comparison of the course of prices during the Civil War and the present war shows many points of similarity during the two war periods. The course of prices during the present period of readjustment and the corresponding period following the Civil War show more points of difference than of similarity.

"During both wars the wholesale prices of commodities in general rose steadily through the war period. The rise during the Civil War period, taking the year 1860 as the base, runs up to somewhat higher level than the rise during the present war. In both wars building materials rose in price, but they did not at either time reach levels as high as the price levels of other commodities.

"At the beginning of the year 1865, the end of the Civil War being in sight, wholesale prices broke suddenly and violently. During the first six months of the year, prices in general fell off 27 per cent from the high level of January. However, the break in wholesale prices, although unprecedented in violence and accompanied by the unsettling influence of the end of the great war, produced no business crisis or depression. Through the latter half of 1865, prices recovered from the low point until in January, 1866, they stood just 16 per cent below the level of January, 1865. From the beginning of 1866 prices dropped slowly downward. They did not reach the prewar level until the year 1878. As is well known, during that period of inflated currency, gold was at a premium. However, commodity prices remained above the prices of gold up to and including the year 1877.

"Building materials declined in price along with other commodities during the first half of the year 1865. However, the fall was less than in the case of other commodities. Whereas commodities in general dropped 27 per cent, building materials dropped only 14 1-2 per cent. The recovery during the second half of the year was more marked, prices of building materials returning to the level of the last quarter of the year 1864, and remaining at that level for the period of a year before the decline set in. The index figure for the building materials group remained higher than that for all commodities up to and including the year 1877.

"The currency was on a distinctly unsound basis in the Civil War reconstruction period. The sharp fluctuations in prices gave rise to much speculation and the opportunities for development of the resources of the country, such as unused land, rivers and harbors, building of railroads, led to over-expansion of business, resulting in the financial panic of 1873. This panic was not accompanied by any sharp decline in prices.

"As was stated above, it was 13 years after the Civil War before prices returned to the pre-war level. The principal cause of the return to the pre-war level was the fact that there was such abundant opportunity for the development of new and more economic methods of production in the shape of new forms of machinery and new kinds of business organizations. These opportunities we do not have at the present day in any measure comparable with the previous period."

GERMANY'S CONFESSION

The Oakland Tribune sums up the situation between the Germans and the allied governments in two paragraphs of an editorial:

Germany has acknowledged the principle of the reparation payments which the Allies propose to assess against her, and has confessed obligation to pay. And as a sign of this confession of guilt, she has offered to pay a penalty of $25,000,000,000—one-fifth in 1920 and the balance by the end of 1927. This is the sum Germany suggests for covering crimes contrary to the universally accepted rules of warfare, the laws of nations and the practices of civilization.

Having confessed the crimes and the obligation to make reparation there is no longer any question of dispute between the Allied and German government on the principle of reparations or the responsibility for illegal acts. The questions remaining to be determined are solely the amount of the loss incurred by the Allied governments and nationals and the extent to which Germany is able to pay. These questions must be decided by the Allies. The word of the German government may be received, but it cannot be trusted. Consequently the purpose of the Allies to leave the question of the total reparation amount open until the maximum of German ability to pay is ascertained is founded upon experience, wisdom and safety.

The merchants of Richmond at their Tivoli Cafe banquet last night talked a great deal about the needs of the city and some excellent suggestions were made. However, talk is cheap, and talk and no action amounts to stagnation, which is the worst thing possible for a city or town. Better to be up and doing something than to get in a rut and do nothing at all. The thing for the Merchants' Association to do is to get their shoulders to the wheel and boost hard for the town, incidentally promoting more factories, a good hotel, the Turner & Dahnken Theatre project, and a shorter and better transportation line to San Francisco, which can only be had by a fast ferry route. These are some of the things needed by Richmond, and above all we need a good hotel. You can't get people to come to Richmond even temporarily if you have no place worthy of the name in which to house them. We need a hotel, even worse than we need a good theatre, although the latter will be of great benefit in keeping our own people home, but the hotel project would be a factor in bringing other people here, and we want more population in order to make a great city of Richmond.

Much has been written on the matter of harbor work for the East shores of San Francisco bay—the continental side, where all the big docks and wharves must ultimately be constructed to accommodate the vast amount of commerce which is bound to come here from the great inland agricultural districts as well as the countries across the Pacific. Capital is being attracted here, for it recognizes the virgin field which is offered for a safe return on the investment, no matter how large the sum. Another Bush Terminal is to be constructed between Richmond and Oakland, and the Richmond project extending down to the Key Route basin is to be a part of the general program. Colonel Rees had this in mind when he made the general plans for the great East Bay harbor project, and his general plans have been adopted by the government. Now all is lacking is the money, and this seems to be in a fair way of coming.

MADGE KENNEDY in DAUGHTER OF MINE Goldwyn Pictures

MADGE KENNEDY IN NEW DRAMA AT RICHMOND PLAYHOUSE

"Daughter of Mine," the new Goldwyn picture in which Madge Kennedy stars at the Richmond Theatre today, is said to be novel from every angle. Written by Hugo Ballin, Goldwyn's art director, it tells an original story in which all characters play a dual role.

Briefly, "Daughter of Mine" is the story of little Rosie Mendelsohn, daughter of the tenements, and Papa Mendelsohn, an orthodox Jew, who does not approve of Rosie's poet-sweetheart because he is too modern—because he uses a typewriter. After much persuasion he induces Rosie to send George away, and Rosie, because filial love is uppermost in her nature, tries to forget.

She becomes stenographer to Rayberg, a publisher, who is partly in love with her and consents to listen to a wonderful story, the manuscript of which Rosie declares she found in the subway. In reality, she has typed from memory all she can remember of George's great romantic novel. Her version is absurd—just the sort of thing a sentimental girl would write. As she tells the story, Rosie becomes the heroine, Lady Diantha, and all the other characters become the people she knows best—Papa Mendelsohn, Rayberg himself, and George. It is all part of a clever scheme which results in an unexpected climax and brings George back to Rosie.

ASSOCIATION OF LIBRARY HEADS HOLD MEETING AT DEL MONTE

Richmond and Contra Costa county are well represented at the Twenty-fourth annual meeting of the State Library Association which began its session at Del Monte this morning and will continue the remainder of the week. Miss Norah McNeill, of this city, went down to the famous resort yesterday, and will attend the full session, and along with here were Mrs. Alice G. Whitbeck, county librarian, of Martinez, Mrs. Alphonse Duperu, of Crockett, and Mrs. Mary Gilpatrick of Martinez, the two latter city librarians. Miss McNeill is expected home next Monday.

State Librarian Milton J. Ferguson will call the meeting to order, and deliver the annual president's address.

The library's part in reconstruction will be the theme of the meeting. Special emphasis will be given to the re-education of wounded soldiers, and the training of blind soldiers and civilians. Co-operation in community service work will be given attention.

Captain Carleton B. Joeckel, of the Berkeley public library, recently returned from service with the 363d infantry; Major Allan R. Cullimore, Letterman General Hospital; Professor B. H. Crocheron and Samuel J. Hume, University of California; Professor Edward B. Krehbiel, Stanford, and John Ridington, librarian of the University of British Columbia, are scheduled to speak.

There are something like one hundred delegates in attendance from all over the state of California.

FEATURE MATINEE AT THE ORPHEUM

Tomorrow the second feature matinee of the Baker Players season will be presented to Oakland theatre-goers. The play this week tells a charming story, is full of color and will prove to be one of the most entertaining plays for the women folks that has been seen in many a day.

"Which One Shall I Marry?" is perhaps the most difficult question in every girl's life, but after you have seen Miss Olive Templeton portray the part of Agnes Moran it is quite easily decided which one she shall marry.

These feature matinees that are given every Wednesday at the Oakland Orpheum are becoming more popular each week with the ladies, and this popularity is easily understood when one stops to think that it is one of the nicest ways to spend an afternoon. The patrons are always sure of witnessing a bright, cheerful, snappy play, capably handled by the celebrated Baker players. And last but not least the price of tickets is so reasonable, in fact the only thing about the Baker players which might be called cheap is the price of the tickets at these feature matinees. The branch box office which the management has established at Lenhardts has indeed proven a big convenience for the patrons, as one can reserve or purchase tickets there for any performance. Or if more desirable, patrons can phone the Oakland Orpheum and their tickets will be held for them.

WHY WOMEN SUFFER

Many Richmond Women are Learning the Cause.

Women often suffer, not knowing the cause.

Backache, headache, dizziness, nervousness,

Together hint at weakened kidneys.

Strike at the root—get to the cause.

Recommended by thousands—
Endorsed at home.

Here's convincing testimony from a Richmond citizen.

Mrs. E. V. Wootten, 245 Fifteenth St., says: "My kidneys were disordered, and there was a dull, heavy ache in my back. When I walked, every step seemed to jar my whole system. I was very nervous and the least thing upset me. My feet swelled so badly I couldn't put my shoes on, and my kidneys didn't act right. Two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills gave me relief, helping me in every day."

"I suffered from nervousness, headache and deafness. My health was so poor that I was unable to do anything. I had tried many doctors and had also been treated at the University Clinic. The doctors there inserted an instrument into my nose for the purpose of restoring my hearing. Its only effect was to cause me awful pain and bleeding. Then my nose also became stopped up and my suffering was worse than before.

CITY COUNCIL HANDLES MUCH ROUTINE BUSINESS AT MEETING

Unexpected opposition to the proposition of the city buying a plot of ground in Sunset View cemetery as a soldiers' memorial developed at the meeting of the city council last night. Councilman Gerlach declared that according to his opinion the money should be spent for something that would be of benefit to the returned soldiers while they are alive, rather than after they have passed away. Government cemeteries, he declared, were plenty, and they were designed for the exexact purpose of the present movement. C. F. Seeman also voiced his protest against the proposition.

On account of the illness of Mayor Lane, Councilman J. N. Long took the chair and presided over the meeting of the board at the meeting last night. He said he favored the cemetery idea, but did not think we should stop at that, but many other things could be accomplished for the brave men who defended the nation. Councilman Picton was not present at the meeting.

J. E. Marshall, building inspector, reported 37 permits issued during May, with a total valuation of $66,950. Fees amounted to $141.20.

I. R. Vaughn, city treasurer, reported $171,623.74 in the treasury on May 31.

J. O. Ford, tax collector, reported $8,887.03 in taxes collected during May.

H. D. Chapman, city engineer, reported costs during May for street department amounting to $1,317.

Chas. R. Blake, health commissioner, reported 28 births and 11 deaths during May.

C. A. Odell, police judge, reported 29 cases as follows: 8 fines paid, 5 committed, 5 suspended, 1 dismissed, 9 pending and 1 bail forfeited.

The liquor license of Ed. McDuff was transferred from 28 to 19 Cottage avenue.

Fifteen residents petitioned for an arc light to be placed at the corner of Thirty-first and Ohio. Referred to the lighting committee.

Bids were opened for the improvements of Fifth, Turpin and Elgin avenues. J. E. Staniger was the lowest bidder and was awarded the contract at $8,032.49. Other bids were G. W. Cushing, $9,075.36; S. C. Rogers, $8,462.94; L. L. Page, $8,134.97.

Plans for the improvement of Eighth street were presented by the city engineer and adopted.

On the request of Fire Chief Lemoin, the water company was requested to raise its fire hydrant at Eighth and Chanslor.

The question of installing electroliers on Macdonald avenue was brought up. Charles T. Phillips, illuminating engineer of San Francisco, estimated the cost per front root at $1.65 in the business district and $1.15 in the residential district. These figures are for underground construction and overhead construction would be cheaper but less advisable. City Engineer Chapman will make a report at the next meeting.

A local committee will confer with Colonel Heuer in San Francisco at 5 p. m. Wednesday in regard o what work the government will expect of the city before making its appropriation of $328,000. Those attending will be the harbor committee, harbor engineer, harbor master and the city attorney. Councilman Gerlach will serve in Mayor Lane's place.

In reply to a query from the police department it was stated that any one desiring to sell fireworks for July 4th must apply to the city council for a permit.

The annual banquet of the city council and the heads of the city departments will be held at Blake's quarry on June 21st, plans now being prepared for the yearly get-together of the city fathers.

MRS. WALKER IS ILL

Mrs. W. A. Walker is reported as being quite seriously ill at her home on Washington avenue at the Point. She is under the care of Dr. Deiniger Keser.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if you feel Backachy or have bladder trouble.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.—Adv.

FRANK THOLE & SON, 1928 Macdonald Ave., Richmond, Cal.

"Oakland, Cal., Nov. 14, 1918 To Whom It May Concern — Dr. Wong Him, 1701 Webster St. Dear Sir — Having had experience with bad health, I feel that I must write you a few lines to let you know how thankful I am for the benefit I received from your treatment. I have treated with several physicians for a complicated disease and my cases was given up as hopeless. I was suffering from stomach, heart, liver, head and kidney trouble. When I called to see Dr. Wong Him I placed myself under his care and I consider my cure permanent. I can recommend Dr. Wong Him as an honest, upright man as well as a skillful physician. Hoping that these few lines may prove of value to those who are suffering and wishing to be cured, remain.
